
TO CONSERVE AND PROTECT

Every time you see Arizona's wildlife, you get a glimpse of Arizona Game and Fish Department's mission in action—conserving and protecting all Arizona wildlife species.

Our work takes us all over the state, restoring endangered populations, caring for injured wildlife, creating safer wildlife migration passages and providing remote sites with drinking water.

Help us conserve and protect Arizona's wildlife for generations to come.

ARIZONA'S WILDLIFE IS COUNTING ON YOU.

THE THIRST FOR SURVIVAL

AND WHAT WE'RE DOING TO INCREASE THE ODDS.

SIPS FOR SUMMER

Arizona is in its 21st year of long-term drought. For our wildlife, this means less drinking water and a bigger fight for survival, especially during our dry summers.

Arizona Game and Fish Department maintains 3,000 water catchments, or man-made watering sites built in remote locations around the state to provide necessary hydration for every thirsty critter.

The cost to haul water to these sites adds up throughout the year. We receive no Arizona general tax funds, which means we must we rely on generous people like you to help us fund these much-needed efforts.

Delivering water to wildlife is just one way we make a difference. We follow science-based models to provide on the ground conservation and active management. With more than 800 species to look after, the Arizona Game and Fish Department has a big job—and we love nothing more than seeing our hard work pay off.

Our funding comes almost exclusively from sporting licenses, tags and stamps. And with such a big state to cover, we need all the help we can get to conserve and protect Arizona's wildlife.
